

Yuki Chang, Esq.

Senior Counsel

Yuki is an experienced litigator admitted in both New York and California, with a career spanning plaintiff's personal injury, insurance defense, and construction defect litigation, and now focuses her practice on dynamic investigations and complex defense work at ILS.

Yuki advises clients across a wide range of litigation matters, drawing on her experience in both plaintiff's personal injury and defense-side practice. She began her career in New York, where she practiced at a plaintiff's personal injury firm before relocating to Los Angeles to continue her work following admission to the California bar. Since 2020, she has concentrated her practice on insurance defense, with particular emphasis on general defense litigation and construction defect disputes.

Her practice is marked by a focus on detailed investigation and legal research, which she approaches with the rigor of solving complex problems. Yuki thrives on the dynamic nature of litigation, from managing discovery to developing strategies that uncover the truth and advance her clients' interests. She joined ILS in 2023, bringing with her a diverse litigation background and the ability to navigate both plaintiff and defense perspectives.
